

Bill Friedman models Denver/Fort Collins

> This fall I have been working on “Denver” for my layout. I built kits from Fine Scale Miniatures, Bar Mills and Foscale Models. In the background are building flats that I scratch built. All of the buildings and flats are lit with LEDs. I found the parts for the restaurant interior on the Internet.

> The backdrop is from pictures of the foothills in south Fort Collins that I took from my backyard. I stitched the photos together using the program suggested by one of the club’s presenters a while ago. Then I had it printed at Walmart for about $30. I hope to finish all the details this spring like trees, grass, people, newspapers, trash etc. it has been a fun project so far.
